

Sandhurst Counselling Service Update - February 2019

Twenty years ago, when Sandhurst Counselling Service (SCS) was born to support those going through relationship break down, Sue Smith and her team probably had little idea of where the Lord might take their work. From that humble birth, the development of the service has been overseen by Di Taylor, with great skill and dedication, to the point where now SCS is an established part of the support network for those struggling with mental health issues in our area – much needed and respected. We are hugely grateful for the ongoing support from St Michael's.

So it was a real challenge when Di told the Trustees in the autumn that the time had come for her to step back! We are, however, delighted to say that we have been successful in recruiting a new Clinical Manager, Malgorzata Milewicz, who will join us in March to continue to ensure we offer a highly professional service to all those who need it.

As St Michael's charity focus this month, we covet your prayers through this important transition; prayers for Di as she starts her 'retirement' from the service, Malgorzata as she picks up the reins, and for all involved that we may see God's leading and hand in all the change.
