

WHY BE A CHURCHWARDEN?

A local church only exists because of the commitment of its members. St Michael's Church needs people who are willing to give some of their time and energy to help us fulfil our mission of worshipping God, nurturing faith, and serving our community.

Churchwardens have an important role in the leadership of our church, most of which is in the background.

Four people who have been Churchwardens describe their experience:

"... it is rewarding to serve God and our congregation in spiritual, personal, practical, routine, and sometimes unexpected ways" (Catherine Wilkins)

"... an opportunity to serve God, our church community and that of wider Sandhurst; there is some hard work but the uplifting experience is far greater." (John Martin)

"... a way of seeing Christ at work in others and the community and supporting this work." (Emma Hodge)

"... a positive way to serve Christ in your community. I got to know aspects of the church's life and people that I had no idea about." (Sue Campbell)

We are looking for people who are willing to give this a try. The initial commitment is for one year. If you would like to know more, or think you might be willing to do this in the future, we would love to hear from you.
